BLUE RIBBON TSUNAMI

It rolls around each year you know,
Like a tsunami building up.
The battle for that piece of felt,
Could be a mighty challenge cup.
For weeks and months they're at it,
To have the best there is this year.
See nothing good is ever easy,
It needs blood and sweat and tear.

As you come down off Grevillea hill,
To the old stoic entrance gate,
You find a friendly locals face,
To say "I wish you well my mate".
"It's good to see you've got a few"
The volunteers will always say.
And usually from Notty it's a
Heartfelt "Enjoy your day".

So you wind in through the horses,
In their thousands it may seem
There for equine competition
For any points the judges deem.
Each a picture of perfection,
Manicured and on track.
Not a hair is ever out of place
On either rider or on hack.

Then you pull up to the sheep shed,
With lambs and rams and ewe.
And try to scope your competition,
It's just something that you do.
A special place this is for me,
Built in honour of my Dad.
And this year we're missing Barry too,
And all the times they had.

There's goats and chooks and wool and art,
Each still searching for the best.
Beside the office where the trophies are
At the completion of the test.
Then it's to the main pavilion,
Where the competition's hot.
Who has got a sponge this year
That could rival Grandma Dot?

Bobby's won the vegetables,
Though hundreds may have tried.
And old Ken has got a second,
With a dahlia planted just before he died.
So much to see and look at,
All the sections seem to thrive.
Reflecting time and perseverance,
And a little town alive.

The last stop is to the bird shed,
And it brings yet another tear.
For there's the budgies, finches, parrots,
But if only Kev was here.
And the schools have done a mighty job,
With displays and works of art.
And it's something to be proud of,
As our little town has heart.

Then it's back through Sideshow Alley,
And the parent's money pit.
Yet with rides and children's smiles though
It somehow seems to fit.
Sit down to watch a wood chop,
As the splintered splinters fly.
And then down to see the bull ride,
And kid yourself you'd like to try.

Then as darkness falls around you,
An eerie silence seems to fall.
Till the sky explodes with colour,
And the wait was worth it all.
For the joy reflected in the eyes,
Of children young and spry.
As they munch down on a Pluto Pup
Makes you think of days gone bye.

The tsunami's all but over,
Next year's entries now to plan.
You're going for the Blue Ribbons,
And a Champion if you can .
So see you all in 2022,
It's back on again you know.
And there's really nothing like it,
Not like the local country show.
